

The Foundation for The Gator Nation

Tenure-Track Position in Nutritional Sciences
Food Science and Human Nutrition Department

The University of Florida seeks candidates for a tenure-track Assistant Professor position in Nutritional Sciences. This position has full 12-month salary support from state funds. Duties will include teaching and developing a nationally recognized, extramurally funded, innovative research program. Preferred research areas include obesity, aging, molecular nutrition, functional foods, metabolism, and macro- or micronutrients. The department <http://fshn.ifas.ufl.edu> has a strong interdisciplinary nature and abundant opportunities exist on campus for fruitful collaborations with the College of Medicine and biomedical research institutes including biotechnology, genetics, and aging.

The position requires a PhD in Nutrition or related field and post-doctoral research experience. To ensure full consideration, please apply by May 1, 2008 online at <https://jobs.ufl.edu> and search for requisition #0704952. Qualified applicants should also submit in one Adobe Acrobat (.pdf) file: (1) cover letter (2) curriculum vitae (3) summary of teaching experience and philosophy, and (4) research accomplishments and future plans. Send file to Dr. Robert J. Cousins at FSHNcommittee@ifas.ufl.edu. Review of applicants will continue until the position is filled.

The University of Florida is an equal opportunity employment institution. Women and minorities are encouraged to apply.